

MOROSINI WEDS WIDOW AND GIVES SISTER SURPRISE

Girl Who Inherited Father's Millions Wasn't Told Until Last Minute.

Giovanni P. Morosini, the elder son of the late Giovanni P. Morosini, banker and partner of Jay Gould, was married at 10 o'clock today in St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church, Riverdale, to Mrs. Julia Gets Ammon, widow of the late Col. John Henry Ammon, a wholesale bookseller. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Michael Murray in the presence of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Julia Morosini, and Arthur Werner, the ex-politician who married Miss Morosini; the bride's brother, and former Park Commissioner Henry Smith.

It was said just before the ceremony that Giovanni did not break the news to his sister that he was going to marry Mrs. Ammon until last night. The Morosinis will spend their honeymoon motoring through the Berkshires. When they return they will live at the Sherman Square Hotel, where Mrs. Ammon has lived for the past two years.

Mrs. Ammon has been an intimate friend of Mrs. Werner for several years and was a frequent visitor at the beautiful Morosini home in Riverdale. Giovanni lived there with his sister, who inherited the estate and the bulk of her father's millions. Giovanni and his brother, Attilio, were left only the income of $250,000 trust funds. Victoria Morosini, who attended her father by his side with the family coachman, Ernest Schillius, was left even a smaller legacy, the income from $7,000. Another daughter, Amalia, has been a life-long invalid and lives with her sister.

Attilio estranged himself from the family when he married Mary Washington Bond of Elizabeth, N. J., a beautiful young woman who is said to be directly descended from the family of George Washington.

The bride of today's wedding was widowed about seven years ago. Her husband at that time was in the book business on Rade street and for several years after his death the young and attractive widow carried on the business.

AUTO GIRL BUMPS MAN AND BUILDING IN BROADWAY DASH

A yellow racing car, driven by a girl, went north on Broadway at 11:30 o'clock last night at terrific speed. In the car with the girl was a man, who seemed to have perfect confidence in her management of the machine.

The car passed Thirtieth street when a southbound taxicab turned from the west side of the street and started east through Fortieth street. To avoid running down the taxicab the girl swerved the racer to the right, bowled over a man who was on the corner, wrecked a newsstand and crashed into the side of a building on the northeast corner, breaking the window.

The police came. The man and girl climbed out of the car and the man said he was Samuel Edith of No. 32 Hudson street, Hoboken. The girl was asked her name. She replied:

"I'm Miss Gibson. That's all you need know."

They picked up the man who had been run down and called an ambulance from New York Hospital. Dr. Ward found he was bruised, but not much hurt. Linda's car was damaged.

The injured man said he was Harry McCool, from Philadelphia. He was asked if he wanted to make a complaint.

"No," he replied. "I want to get home. This is my first visit to this town and my last."

The man who owned the newsstand and the owner of the smashed window were not present to press complaints. He charged a breaking glass jar was made by the police, and Linda and Miss Gibson proceeded on their way.

McCool was taken to the West Thirtieth street police station for further repairs. The doctor was still looking him over when he announced he preferred home treatment for New York hurts, bounded to the street and headed for the Pennsylvania Railroad station.

Colonial styles in Chintz-patterned tulle, with cream net chemise and undersleeves—Colonial styles in changeant tulle, with bertha, panel sash, and puffed hem—border of ravel-edge silk Messaline, striped tulle, chamoisee, even satin, of dark and light colorings—tulle effects predominating.

Dresses at $19.74

That were made to sell up to $40.00

Plain and changeant silk Directoire frocks with positioned blouses of cream shadow lace—Colonial frocks of striped tulle with shirred bertha and hem—border—Miscellaneous styles in tulle, trimmed with handsome bands and panels of the fashionable ratine lace.

Dresses at $24.74

That were made to sell up to $50.00

Pompadour-patterned voile frocks mounted on chiffon over messaline—Black chiffon over white messaline, with deeply scalloped bands of black tulle—A panther model in chintz-patterned voile with pinked tulle ruffles—Striped voile made with chiffon coat blouse in the darker colors.

The one illustrated at this price is of French tulle and chiffon cloth, with capeline of shadow lace.

Dresses at $29.74

That were made to sell up to $65.00

Several elaborate models suitable for afternoon and informal evening wear—Black and white striped chiffon over white satin—Chiffon over same or contrasting messaline with handsomely draped skirt—Black chiffon with colored ratine embroidery on bodice and tunic.

THE "LALLAPALOOSA" HAT

solves the problem of the girl who wants her hat to match every dress, but does not wish to provide a separate hat for each dress she may have.

"Lallapaloosa" Hats, like that shown in the illustration, are

19c, 29c, 39c and 59c

according to the fineness in which this neutral-colored straw is woven.

Trim Your "Lallapaloosa" Hat With

Picot-Edged Gros-Grain Ribbon at 39c yd

In the two-and-three-quarter inch width.

Colors—white, pink, light blue, cardinal, navy, primrose and black.

Half-a-dozen-yard to two-yard lengths of this fashionable ribbon in the different colors, in addition to a "Lallapaloosa" hat, will provide an endless variety of hats to go with linen suits or dresses. The illustration shows one of arranging the ribbon that is simplicity itself.

BOYS' KNICKERBOCKERS $1.19

Price Elsewhere, $1.50 and $2.00

This sale and this value are made possible by the fact that while nearly all of our suits are made with two pairs of trousers, customers frequently purchase the suits with only one pair, leaving the other pair here.

As a result we have in stock more than 1,000 pairs of knickerbockers which we can afford to mark unusually low even for Macy's. They are well-made knickerbockers, tully lined and cut with ample roominess. The manufacturers who make our most expensive suits for boys tailored and constructed them. Sizes from 5 to 18 years.

"Irontex" Play Suit—New—$1.36

Identical suit selling elsewhere for $1.50

All sizes from 4 to 10 years. It takes but a moment to put on or off, is no trouble to launder and the material is so stout that it wears like iron.

Made of unbleached regulation army drill. Middy blouse has sailor collar, tie, short sleeves and watch pocket. Knee trousers.

Second Floor, Sixth St. Room.

SALE OF "STRAUS" CUT GLASS CONTINUED

Visitors to our Cut Glass rooms in the basement learn some interesting facts when they examine the "Straus" Cut Glass displayed there.

They find that "Straus" Cut Glass is raised in brilliance and depth of cutting any other cut glass on the market. That's why it was awarded first prize at the World's Fair.

They also find that the highest quality of Cut Glass is obtainable at Macy's at lower prices than other stores charge for inferior, dull, lustreless kinds.

There are many other interesting facts—but note the following items:

REED BABY CARRIAGES—A SALE

"Pullman Sleepers" and Collapsible Go-Carts at from $2.00 to $4.00 less than our regular lowest-in-the-city prices.

By anticipating a large order, placed usually by us somewhat late in the year, we secured marked price concessions from our regular manufacturer.

These carriages are of the lightest construction consistent with enduring wear. Made with stout steel springs, steel tubing gear and heavy rubber-tired wheels.

The body of the carriages is made of strong wire reed in either light or oak finish. The carriages vary in many effects of deep-dipped sides, and high curving fronts.
